The Dokkcast

An evidence-led health podcast hosted by Dr Nara Daubeney

> Open, accessible conversations with eminent doctors, clinicians, researchers and healthcare specialists, who translate complex medical subjects into information listeners can understand and use. Credible health insight, without hype, fads or misinformation.

YOUR HOST

Dr Nara Daubeney

CONSULTANT ENT SURGEON & ENTREPRENEUR, LONDON

PhD in immunology from Imperial College, Fellow of the Royal College of Surgeons, Honorary Secretary of ENTUK and Clinical Lead for Innovation at the Royal Society of Medicine.

OUR GUESTS

Most of our guests are eminent in their fields: doctors, clinicians, researchers and healthcare specialists, chosen for their professional experience, specialist knowledge and ability to explain their work clearly.

Qualified professionals are given the time and space to discuss their work properly, explain why it matters and consider where their field may be heading next.

WHY PARTNER

Credibility by association

Your organisation appears alongside eminent, qualified voices in health and medicine.

Listeners who want reliable information

People come for thoughtful, evidence-led conversation, not hype.

Editorial integrity protected

Partnerships must fit our audience and protect the programme's credibility.
